JADEN VERSUS TITAN

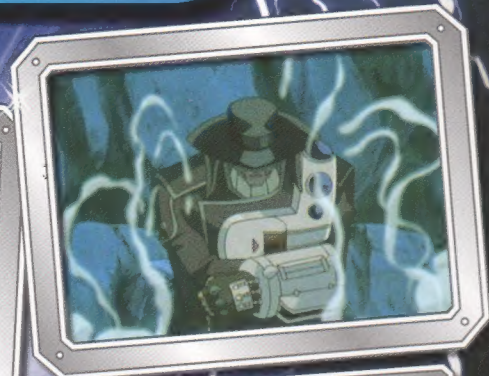

Here's the spine tingling first part of what could be Jaden's last ever Duel. Find out what happens when he Duels for life!

Alexis tells Jaden: "They catch you here and they'll expell you."

Alexis is held "On a hook. Dangling baiting your friends into my trap!"

Titan says that he is Jaden's "worst nightmare come true!"

The only way Jaden can free Alexis is to win a Shadow Duell!

He says: "You're not gettin' us - 'specially Alexis!"

- Titan Summons Infernalqueen Archfiend in Attack Mode!
- This means that every monster with "Archfiend" in its name gains 1000 extra Attack Points!
- Activates the Spell Card Pandemonium so he doesn't have to pay any Life Points to keep Archfiends in the field. And if they're destroyed (outside of a battle) he can replace with another from his hand.

4000

TERRORKING ARCHFIEND

[FIEND/EFFECT]
This card cannot be Normal Summoned or Flip Summoned unless you have an Archfiend Monster Card on your side of the field. The controller of this card pays their Life Points during each of their Standby Phases (first in your turn, then in your opponent's turn) the effect of a card controlled by your opponent, when resolving the effect, roll a six-sided die. If the result is 1 or 6, negate the effect and destroy the opponent's card. The effect of an effect monster that this card destroyed as a result of being destroyed is negated.

ATK/2000 DEF/1500

ELEMENTAL HERO AVIAN

[WARRIOR]
A winged Elemental Hero who wheels through the sky and manipulates the wind. His signature move, Featherbreak, gives villainy a blow from sky-high.

ATK/1000 DEF/1000

INFERNALQUEEN ARCHFIEND

[FIEND/EFFECT]
The controller of this card pays 500 Life Points during each of their Standby Phases (this is not optional). When this card is targeted by the effect of a card controlled by your opponent, when resolving the effect, roll a six-sided die. If the result is 1 or 6, negate the effect and destroy the opponent's card. As long as this card remains on the field, during each Standby Phase, increase the ATK of a fiend monster card by 1000 points until the End Phase.

ATK/ 900 DEF/1500

ELEMENTAL HERO CLAYMAN

[WARRIOR]
An Elemental Hero with a clay body built-to-last. He will preserve his Elemental Hero colleagues at any cost.

ATK/ 800 DEF/2000

Jaden tries to capture this but Titan says, "Your trap won't work against Terrorking Archfiend".

When Titan destroys Elemental Hero Avian Jaden, says, "Well that stinks!"

Infernalqueen Archfiend doesn't attack here. Titan uses her to boost up his other Fiend cards instead!

Elemental Hero Clayman is strong in Defence Mode. Like Chumley says, he "should keep Jaden safe"

JADEN

- Plays Mirage Of Nightmare – lets Jaden draw 'till he has four cards in his hand.
- Plays a couple of face-downs.

2000

DUEL RECREATED FROM YU-GI-OH! GX AND MAY DIFFER FROM THE ACTUAL CARD PLAY.

HERO SIGNAL

[TRAP CARD]

You can only activate this card when a monster on your side of the field is destroyed as a result of battle and sent to the Graveyard. Special Summon 1 Level 4 or lower monster from your hand or Deck that includes "Elemental Hero" in its card name.

POT OF GREED

[SPELL CARD]

Draw 2 cards from your Deck.

PANDEMONIUM

[SPELL CARD]

Neither player has to pay Life Points during the Standby Phase for Archfiend monsters. Each time a player's Archfiend (Monster Cards) are destroyed and sent to the Graveyard, except as a result of battle, that player can select 1 Archfiend Monster Card from his/her Deck that has a lower Level than the destroyed card and add it to his/her hand.

ELEMENTAL HERO THUNDER GIANT

[WARRIOR/FUSION/EFFECT]

This monster cannot be Special Summoned except by Fusion Summon. By discarding 1 card from your hand, select and destroy 1 face-up monster on the field with an original ATK that is less than the ATK of this monster. You can only use this effect once per turn. (During your Main Phase)

ATK/2400 DEF/1500

Losing Elemental Hero Avian is tough for Jaden "but at least it activates" Hero Signal.

Pot of Greed is a must-have card for Duellists running low – it lets you draw 2 cards from your deck.

Playing Pandemonium has a big effect: "it doesn't just change the scenery, it changes the rules!"

Elemental Hero Thunder Giant "let loose" with "Static blast!" but his attack is foiled by Titan.

ANSWER

MONSTER

RAIKO THE GOBLIN SLAYER

When a horrible man-eating goblin makes off with a princess then it's time to call in a hero.

Long ago in Japan a terrible Goblin King named Shutendoji was preying on the people of Kyoto. He would creep into their homes in disguise and steal their sons and daughters. Then he would take them back to his mountain lair to be held as captives and then eventually eaten in great feasts. One day a princess from the royal court was kidnapped by the goblins. This was too much and the Emperor called on his advisors for a plan to end the menace.

Undercover agents

At their suggestion, he asked the famous noble warrior Raiko to help. This fearless hero and five companions agreed to seek out the goblin and kill him. In order to help make their mission successful, Raiko had them all disguise themselves as priests. All their armour and weapons were hidden away in knapsacks on their backs. The warriors also prayed to the gods of war and mercy for help and guidance. Then they set out for Mount Oyo where Shutendoji lived.

Mountain peril

The journey was tough because Oyo was protected by huge boulders, dense forests and deep chasms. Just as the heroes were losing heart, three mysterious old men appeared. These turned out to be the gods they had prayed to who had arrived to help. The gods gave them a bottle of magical sleeping potion to give to the goblin. If he drank it he would fall asleep and be easier to kill.

SLAYERS

The Goblins' lair

The warriors continued their journey and came to a mountain stream where they found a beautiful maiden washing a bloodstained shirt. She turned out to be a captive princess. Overjoyed that a hero had come to kill the goblin, she led them back to his iron castle and got them past the guards. They entered the great hall and met the fearsome Shutendoji. This huge goblin with a red skin and a mass of white hair welcomed them with a smile, for he took them to be poor priests. He gladly accepted the offer of a drink - in fact he liked their potion so much that he drank the lot. Once he was asleep Raiko and his friends put on their armour and began to kill the sleeping goblins. Raiko himself struck off the King's head and it flew into the air, letting out a great sheet of flame, which scorched the hero. There was great rejoicing as the heroes and the released captives marched out of the iron castle and back to Kyoto.

Check out some other brave heroes from around the world!

The ancient Mesopotamian hero Gilgamesh and his companion Enkidu fought a battle with the Bull of Heaven. Enkidu held the bull by its horns while Gilgamesh attacked it with his sword, killing the mighty Bull of Heaven.

Gilgamesh and the Bull of Heaven

Greek hero, Hercules was sent to kill the Hydra. The problem was, everytime Herc chopped off a head another two grew back. In the end Herc worked out he needed to seal each neck with a flaming torch as he cut off the heads!

Hercules and the Hydra

DRAW ELEMENTAL HERO THUNDER GIANT

He's big and powerful, now you can add Elemental Hero Thunder Giant to your sketch book!

Elemental Hero Thunder Giant is a monster of massive proportions. Standing an incredible 16 heads high from the top of his head to the tips of his metal clad toes!

Always divide his body into the 16 heads and you'll have a perfectly proportioned Monster.

TOP TIP

ALWAYS MAKE SURE YOU HAVE A LARGE CLEAR AND TIDY WORK AREA BEFORE YOU START.

BAM!

1

Create your grid before you start copying the picture. When you've done this start, as usual, with the line of action. The next step is to copy in the outline, using the grid as reference. Make sure you get this in exactly the right place, as it will help you when you come to filling in the detail in later steps. Don't be afraid of repeating this step if you feel like you haven't got it totally right first time.

SCRIBBLE...
SCRATCH...

2

Your next step is to copy in circles and sausage shapes to bulk out his body. To do this look at the outline and see where you think they will fit best. Look at the picture of Elemental Hero Thunder Giant the foot that is stepping forward looks bigger than the one further back, this is called perspective. The reason his foot looks bigger is because it is closer. It's like looking at a tree close up and then again from a distance. The tree in the distance looks tiny even though it's not. Elemental Hero Thunder Giant's feet are the same size even though one looks bigger.

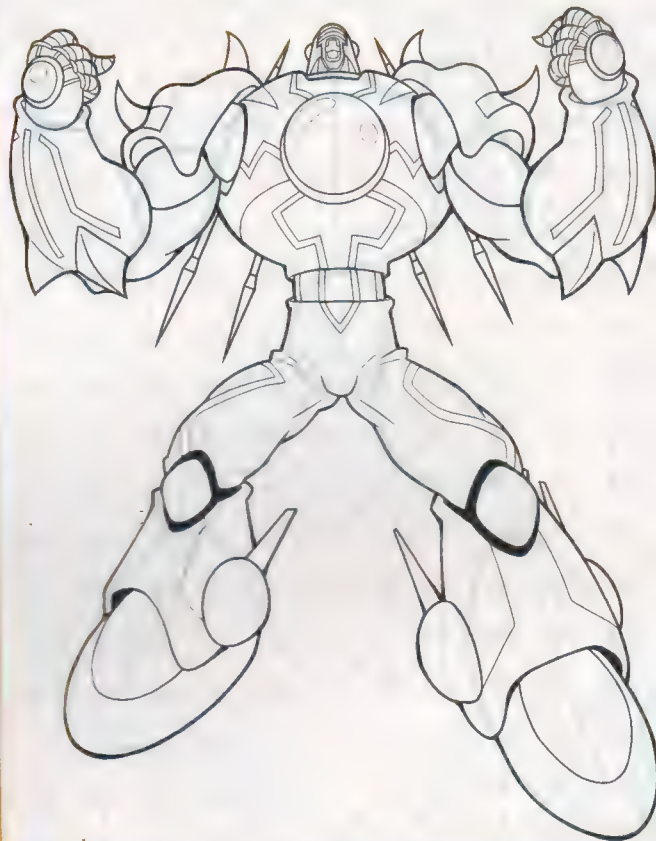

3

Now it's time to get busy with your pencil and add in some of the basic detail on the drawing. Start with the outlines on his arms and body armour. Keep the lines clean and simple so you don't confuse yourself. Then move onto the breast plate and his legs and shoes. Try to get the basic shapes first so that when you add the detail it blends in well. Remember not to press too hard in case you make mistakes.

TOP TIP

WHEN YOU COLOUR TRY TO PUT THE LIGHTER COLOURS IN FIRST!

4

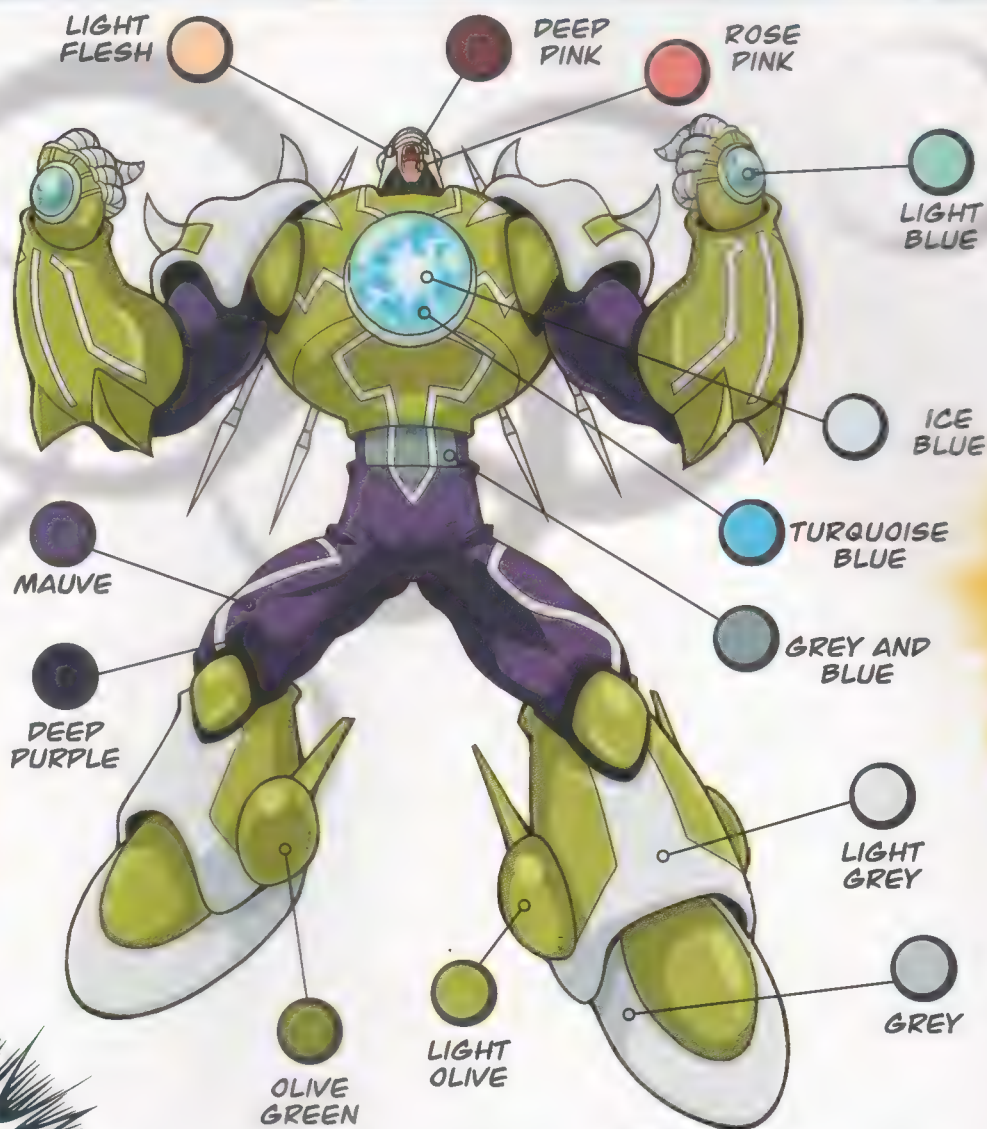

In this step you can add in the rest of the detail. This means you need to focus on the head and the breast plate, you can use the close up to help you here. Once you've done that look at the detail on the hands, his boots and his arms. When you're happy with everything you can move onto the next step.

SKETCH...

Now you can make your Elemental Hero

Thunder Giant come alive
by applying some colour.
There is some really fine
detail around his head so make sure you're very careful here. You'll notice there are a lot of different shades of green and purple to put in, so pay attention to getting them in the right place!

TAKE A CLOSER LOOK

Elemental Hero Thunder Giant has a ball of energy on his chest. Copy the light spots on the ball so that when you come to colour it's easy. Pay careful attention to the details on his head, getting all the lines in the right place.
